

Make a difference – report modern slavery now

Modern slavery is complex and can affect a person in many ways:

- they are unable to leave their work and their freedom is limited
- they are not being paid for their work and/or have a debt to pay to their employer
- they are forced to work long hours, may seem withdrawn and are a migrant worker
- they are not able to move voluntarily and always have someone with them who appears to be making all the decisions for them

If you see this at your work, someone may be at risk of modern slavery
